

Annual program: model

Our annual program 'model drawing' consists of three parts:

1. 'Seeing the big shape: learn to draw the human figure'

Drawing the figure can be an overwhelming experience. After all, there are so many elements to consider! That's why we start with the most important concept of our model drawing classes: make sure the big shape works before adding information such as facial features, fingers and so on.

During this course we:

- do lots of drawing and work from live models
- develop an understanding of the different stages of the drawing process
- Study works from the old masters and the anatomy of the human figure.
- learn how the figure moves in space (by sculpting the figure)

Open Studio

This course is designed to give students the opportunity to practice with the knowledge they gained. Every class there will be a model present and we will spend the whole session drawing the nude. You are free to choose your own technique. For example: if you want to practice with values, you can take charcoal as a basic material. If you need to practice more with proportions, you can work with pencil.

New students are also welcome to join. It is a great way to get to know us, the program and become familiar with our classical way of working.
